The Popular Verdict

At least two or three a day for a fortnight in fair weather and foul by day and by night, the President has assured us that he rested his case with the people that they were the final judge that he had perfect confidence in his wisdom and should bow obediently to their will And it never once occur to him that to declare such boundless faith in the wisdom and patriotism of the people, and in the next breath to denounce the representatives whom the wise and patriotic people elected as traitors disunionists and knaves was a poor way of proving that regard he professed Do the President and his friends suppose that the people who heard and who read those speeches were so dull as not to see that in fiercely denouncing the chosen and immediate representatives of the people he was denouncing the people themselves?

The tribunal to which the President appeals has begun its response The people here and elsewhere have already pronounced upon the question of restoration Vermont, by more than her usual majority for peace and justice says that she does not mean to reward rebellion by larger representation Maine by the largest majority ever known in the State declares that she is not willing that the States which have tried to destroy the Government should have gained by their rebellion in addition to the cold members a representation larger than that of Maine New Hampshire and Vermont combined And every other State will say the same thing When they are asked 'Are you for restoration?' they will reply No, we are for union and equality of the States in Congress, are you?' When they are asked Well, what do you want?' they will answer 'We want restoration which shall not put a premium upon rebellion, do you?'

The States which sustained the war have a perfectly clear perception of what they want. It is not party supremacy nor continued disunion nor vengeance, nor confiscation, nor hostile feeling of any kind whatever, which inspires them It is that instinctive sagacity which will show a whole people to be as wise as a few states men have sometimes been It is that wisdom which in this country will prevent the terrible spectacle so frequent in others a second war to secure the just result of the first The people, unless every sign and all antecedents are deceptive desire to place the legitimate gains of the war beyond the risk of party tumults by grafting them upon the organic law So far from weltering in confusion the only party in this country which has a clear aim definitely pursued is the people's or Union party He certainly is a very short sighted observer and a very superficial student of history and human nature, who does not see that the first Philadelphia Convention and the Albany Democratic Convention in this State and a similar assemblies elsewhere are merely movements of a defeated party to regain ascendancy the only principle or policy advocated by them is what is called immediate restoration of the Union Such a platform is like that of the absurd Bell party in the election of 1860—"The Constitution, the Union, and the Enforcement of the Laws The very question that was driving the country to war was 'What is the Constitution what is the scope of the Union how may the laws be enforced?' The Bell party might as wisely have claimed the Bible as their platform The very point was, who shall interpret it?

The case is not different now The Democratic party, with the President and his friends, are no more devoted to the Constitution and the Union than their opponents The very question is How shall the Union in the most constitutional manner be restored Immediately to admit the late insurgent States to Congress after such a war involving such constitutional changes without deliberation and sagacious care is neither constitutional nor sensible. The American people, intelligent beyond any other, know that it is not enough to win a victory—it must be secured —Harper's Weekly.

A NEW WARNING —The Richmond Examiner is afraid that the Union will be dissolved, and sounds the note of warning The secessionists are not the dangerous ones now Nor are the Radicals in Congress, though our worthy President asserts they are The danger is of a peculiar kind Let the Examiner tell what it is

We wonder that some of the book makers do not give us a treatise on the Great Apostasy, at the North Nearly every church there has fallen away from the Christian faith and bowed the knee to the Baal of politics They have lapsed into idolatry, and

SATURDAY MORNING, OCTOBER 27, 1866.

A Copperhead Organ Comes to the Defense of its New Found Friends.

In order to expose falsehood and point out its deformities it is sometimes necessary to follow its track as it "swings around the circle," and to pursue it in all its devious ways with the light of truth until it is fairly hunted out of its hiding place. Undesirable a task as this may be, a due regard for justice and truth often demands that it be performed.

The editor of the Herald of this city is not noted for his regard for truth. He is quite widely known in an adjoining State, and his reputation is not one that might be regarded as enviable. The fact of his being an outcast from communities where he has had abundant opportunity to become known, is a sufficient commentary on his character. This man who has had to fly from the vengeance of people he has outraged; and whose presence would not at this moment be tolerated there where he is known, comes to this State and modestly claims to be a "teacher" of public sentiment here,—and true to his native instincts, makes every lesson he inculcates consist alone of falsehood. This he does, though he knows the truth is on record against him, and that all intelligent people are aware of his falsifications. But he has learned from experience that his invernicious statements will serve their purpose; for he knows that many who read them will have no opportunity or desire to see them refuted. What does he care for the contempt of people who are aware of his untruthfulness, if he can only succeed in misleading those partisans of his who have consented to accept so low a creature as he as their "teacher and representative?"

Distinguished as he is in his peculiar province of falsehood, he fairly outdid himself in this regard, in his article of Friday morning. It there is a single truthful statement in its two columns, the closest scrutiny by one conversant with the facts throughout, will be forever unable to detect it.

This "teacher" has taken up the cudgel in behalf of the four or five renegades from the Union party, whose acts in the late Legislature justly called down upon them the reproaches of those they betrayed. We congratulate them in having found so proper a defender. The praise of the Copperheads whom they served throughout the session is very suitably bestowed. It is enough that the Copperheads approve what they did. They would be very ungrateful should they fail to return thanks for services so constant and so great.

The Copperhead organ, in defense of its new friends, asserts that we have assailed them with columns of abuse without "specifying an instance in which they voted against a principle to which this party was committed." We have specified repeated instances in which they so voted. We pass by their most dishonorable conduct previous to the election of Senator, with this remark, that no person with the least regard for his own honor or for the interests of his party, will attend a caucus, participate in its proceedings and then refuse to be bound by its action. And we now charge again that in their action in regard to the Grant county cases they were false, first, to justice, and secondly, to the Union party. We charge that in the Polk county cases some of them acted similarly—though still more flagrantly wrong. We charge that they joined hands with the Copperheads and by wasting away the time of the session, prevented legislation that was necessary for the State. We charge that in the same manner they prevented the passage of the registry law, though they knew it was a measure which their party demanded. We charge that they are responsible for the failure of the apportionment act, though they knew that the Constitution required its enactment; that justice demanded it, and that not only the Union party, but the people generally expected it and were entitled to have it. The party they outraged, know that these charges are true: the persons against whom they are levelled know it; their Copperhead defenders are aware of it—and yet we are told that these members scrupulously and faithfully performed every trust that was reposed in them!

We say again that there was no proof against the Union members from Grant county sufficient to deprive them of their seats. "Certified poll-books of precincts fraudulently rejected," were not before the House at all. Some lists of names, purporting to be poll-books, but altogether informal and not "certified," were probably at hand; and this was the sum total of the testimony on which the cases were decided. No investigation was allowed to show whether these pretended poll-books were genuine or not, and no opportunity was granted to purge from them votes known to be illegal. The Copperhead contestants came there with these lists of names, probably prepared for the purpose, and obtained the seats on their own statement. Whether they would have obtained them after a proper investigation, no one can undertake to say. That investigation was not had, "and to this time there is no proof that the Union members were not legally entitled to their seats." Great stress is laid on the decision of Judge Wilson. Now, Judge Wilson is not authorized to say who shall be members of the Legislature of this State. Had the counting of the votes devolved on him, he might have had it in his power to send his friend and cousin, J. W. Nesmith, back to the Senate, and elect his brother-in-law Governor of Oregon.

Again, the contestants had had these pretended poll-books in their possession for weeks before the session; and as there was no other copy of them in existence, they had every opportunity to fix them up precisely to suit their own purposes. How could it be known that they had not been tampered with? The action of the House opened the door for the most shameless frauds, as it placed the decision of the case in the hands of the contestants themselves, who were the parties most deeply interested in it.

Nor is it true, as the renegades' organ affirms, that two-thirds of the members of the House voted to give the seats to the contestants. Only four persons elected as Unionists voted with the Copperheads on this question.

The climax of all those falsehoods is reached in what the "teacher" says of the attempt of the House to convict Senator Dolph of "stealing and suppressing bills after their passage." We quote from the Copperhead organ:

> If a felony of this sort is punishable or regarded as infamous by his party, Dolph and his friends may consider himself fortunate that the time of the session did not permit an investigation of the circumstances. John White and Dr. Loryea both heard Dolph make the threat to do the act with which he was charged, out of spite to Mr. Hendershott, the author of one of the missing bills. Upton fought off the investigation by the House, and he and several other Radicals refused to act in the committee to investigate the affair, which they did to prevent an investigation of the facts. Fondray and Giggles, one Democrat and one Republican, made a partial investigation and reported that there was ground for the charge, but the time of the session was too limited to admit of a full trial. This is what the "organ" calls "false and groundless charges" against its pet Senator accused of larceny. Hendershott was then arraigned before the Senate for making this infamous charge against Dolph, and three Senators, Dolph, Stearns and Johnson alone voted to censure him, which showed a very left-handed vindication of the notorious skedaddler.
> The time of the session did permit an investigation of the circumstances, and the person who wrote the above paragraph knows it. He knows further that the investigation was had and the Senator fully acquitted of the charge. He knows that the sessions of the House were prolonged until midnight on purpose to investigate the matter. The bills which Hendershott had accused Dolph of purloining were H. B. No. 3, appropriating $4,000 to drain Grande Ronde Valley, and H. B. No. 58. A Committee was appointed to investigate the affair. "John White and Dr. Loryea" gave their testimony before the Committee, which after a short session reported that there was "ground for the charge," but recommended that, owing to the shortness of the time of the session, the affair should not be investigated. The friends of the accused Senator demanded an investigation. The House granted it, and the witnesses were called on to give the testimony before the House which they had given before the Committee. A member of the Committee remarked that the statements of the principal witness in the House were much different from his testimony in the Committee room,—and not by any means so strong against the party accused. Mr. Upton who had been present when the conversation occured which gave rise to the affair, testified that he had heard Mr. Dolph say nothing from which it could be inferred that he had possession of the bills. And finally the President of the Senate being called on gave a specific account of the bills and their whereabouts, and the whole affair was dismissed as being entirely without foundation. All these facts this Copperhead editor was well aware of before he wrote his article, and yet he says in effect that the matter was dismissed with the imputation resting on the person accused, of having purloined the bills.

Another statement in the paragraph above quoted is false. Hendershott was not arraigned before the Senate for making this charge against Dolph, but for having endeavored on false representation to obtain the signature of the President of the Senate to bills which he (Hendershott) was very anxious should pass. Dolph did not vote to censure him on this charge as the organ of the renegades affirms, but did offer a resolution to postpone the matter indefinitely, which carried, and Hendershott was dismissed.

Had we space, we might expose fully a dozen other falsehoods in the article under consideration, equally as gross as those above pointed out. But we have already devoted too much attention to the "organ of falsehood,"—for which we ought, perhaps, before closing this article, to beg everybody's pardon except that of the editor who deliberately and knowingly made the false statements which we have refuted and exposed.

Lear and his Fool.

In one of his addresses at a small town on the route of his tour, the President declared that Congress was "an unconstitutional and a tyrannical body, and was working for a consolidated and monarchical government."

"Three weeks ago," writes the profound Nasby, "I was summoned to Washington by that eminently grate and good man Andrew Johnson, to attend a consultation ez to the proposed Western tour, which wuz to be undertaken for the purpose of arousin the masses of the West to the danger that was threatenin uv em in case they persisted in centralizin the power uv the Government into the hands of a Congress, instid of diffusin through the hands uv one man wich is Johnson."

The Opposition Congress.—Elihu B. Washburne, of the Third Illinois District, has been in Congress almost as long as anybody can remember. He is a candidate for re-election; and as his District gave him nearly 9000 majority two years ago, he may be considered quite on the safe side. An ambitious young man named Turner, the Copperhead candidate who opposes him, lately sent him a challenge to meet him in debate at several points in the district. Washburne replied in a way which completely silenced the young man, who has not been heard of since. He sent him word that if he (Turner) would publicly certify that he was a candidate for the same Congress that he (Washburne) was a candidate for, instead of a revolutionary Congress of rebels and Copperheads, which President Johnson intends to recognize, he was ready to accept his challenge, and meet him in joint discussion before the people of the district; but that if he (Turner) was a candidate for Johnson's revolutionary Congress, he would not enter into canvass with him.

South Carolina has passed a bill granting civil rights to the blacks, whereat the Copperheads loudly applaud. Have these fellows forgotten how badly they felt and how they shrieked and stormed last spring when the idea of granting civil rights to "niggers" was broached? And are they reconciled to "negro equality" so soon? South Carolina is coming to her senses. The firmness of the North is teaching her what she must do to regain her place in the Union. Let the Northern Democracy meet with a few more defeats, and the South will surely reconstruct herself on the basis of loyalty and liberty.

The Johnsonites have done their utmost to seduce Grant from his best friends. But Grant is immovable. He will never forget the generous kindness of the radical Congress toward him. Another thing he understands. It is not among rebels and Copperheads that he will be honored in future. They desire to obtain his influence now, but when their object is attained they will spurn him from them and sneer at his generalship, just as they used to do. He must look to the Radicals for support in the future, and he knows it.

The Copperhead papers are fearfully exercised about a fraternal organization of returned soldiers of the U. S. army, called the "Grand army of the Republic." These same soldiers when under Grant, Sherman, Sheridan, etc., used to occasion a vast deal of trouble to Copperheads, and to receive in return very much such abuse as they are getting now. Copperheads will never cease to hate and fear the men who spoiled their joint enterprise with the rattlesnakes of South Carolina.

The arm-in-arm performed at Johnson's Philadelphia Convention was declared to be typical of the brotherly intercourse that is henceforth to exist between all parts of the Union. This is a pretty idea, but is inadequate to represent Johnson's policy. As a perfect illustration of it, two men from Massachusetts should have been assigned to each member from South Carolina, as foreshowing the future relative power of the white men of the two States in the government of the country.

The Parson on his Dignity.—At a mass-meeting in Philadelphia, Parson Brownlow, having been called upon for a speech, said:

> "I am physically unable to make a speech, and if I were able, I could not make a stump speech. I must uphold the dignity of the Governor of Tennessee, and it will not do for me to make stump speeches, it may be done by an accidental President, but not by the Governor of the great State of Tennessee."

Virginia City is reported by a Montana paper as a thriving place. It can't well be doubted when it is stated that this mountain village has fifty-one liquor stores and saloons to fifty-three stores, shops and offices of all other kinds. What a glorious place for A. Johnson to "leave the Constitution in your hands."

Horace Maynard, of Tennessee, says: "Let our laws and institutions speak not of white men, not of red men, not of black men, not of any race or complexion; but like the laws of God, the Ten Commandments and the Lord's Prayer, let them speak of people.

The California papers have accounts of extensive damage to the fruit crops of that State, from a severe storm which prevailed about the middle of October.

Hon. Edward Bates, late Attorney General, is dangerously ill of consumption, and liable to die at any hour from hemorrhage.

Dr. Collins, author of a treatise on "Cholera and its Cure," died of cholera in Cincinnati recently.

STATE ITEMS.

A recent camp-meeting of ten days' continuance, at Forest Cove, under the auspices of the M. E. Church, resulted in the accession of twenty-one members.

A severe storm prevailed throughout this portion of the State, yesterday, Friday, in consequence of which the telegraph was down and no reports were received.

Our readers will have noticed in our dispatches the appointment to positions in the regular army, of Capt Wm. Kelly and Lieut. Charles Hobart, both late of the Oregon Cavalry. Capt. Kelly belonged to one of the companies raised in Southern Oregon and served with so much distinction, throughout the entire term for which the regiment was enlisted, and something longer, having been mustered out of the service only last summer. Lieut. Hobart was appointed 2d Lieutenant of the company raised at Salem in 1861-2, and was afterwards promoted to 1st Lieutenant for valuable services. He spent something over four years in the service, most all the time in the field, and was engaged in a number of Indian fights, skirmishes and pursuits. Both were accomplished officers, and their appointments are well deserved compliments to their past efficiency.

FROM IDAHO.

REPORTED INDIAN FIGHT—ROBBERIES.

The Idaho City Times of the 19th says:

Jeff Standiffer's party of prospectors had a fight with the Indians on the Yellowstone. Hooked eight killed and thirty wounded, so report says.

Charley Barnes was stopped on the Owyhee and Humboldt route by two robbers last week. They were, however, unsuccessful. Charley wasn't flush.

Two Chinamen were robbed between Idaho and Centreville on Monday last.

A Chinese gambling house on Montgomery street was robbed on Sunday evening last of about $500 in dust.

RICH QUARTZ.

The World of the 20th says:

During the week Col. Preston showed to us a piece of exceedingly rich quartz taken from the Leonora ledge in the Yuba District, in Altimus county, at a depth of over forty feet. He left a day or two ago for the East, overland, and has taken several very fine specimens with him.

The East Hill Tunnel Company have struck rich indications at a depth of three hundred and fifty feet in their tunnel.

The Broken Atlantic Cable.—The London Spectator tells the following singular and most interesting story:

> Night and day for a whole year, an electrician has always been on duty watching the tiny ray of light through which signals are given, and twice every day the whole length of wire, 2,240 miles, has been tested for conductivity and consultation. * * * The object in observing the ray of light was of course not any expectation of a message, but simply to keep an accurate record of the condition of the wire. Sometimes, indeed, wild, incoherent messages from the deep did come, but these were merely the results of magnetic storms and earth currents, which deflected the galvanometer rapidly, and spelt the most extraordinary words and sometimes sentences of nonsense, upon the graduated scale before the mirror. Suddenly, last Saturday morning, at a quarter to six o'clock, while the light was being watched by Mr. May, he observed a peculiar indication about it which showed at once to his experienced eye that a message was at hand. In a few minutes afterwards the unsteady flickering was changed to coherency, if we may use such a term, and at once the cable began to speak, to transmit, that is, at regular intervals, the appointed signals which indicated human purpose and method at the other end, instead of the hurried sighs, broken speech and inarticulate cries of the illiterate Atlantic. After the long interval in which it had brought us nothing but the moody and often delirious mutterings of the sea, stammering over its alphabet in vain, the words "Canning to Glass" must have seemed like the first rational word uttered by a high fever patient when the ravings have ceased and his consciousness returns.

The Pioneer China Mail Steamer.—At the new wharf of the Pacific Mail Steamship Company the steamship Colorado is undergoing very extensive alterations, to fit her for the China Mail service, she being the pioneer steamer of the line, to start on the 1st of January next. She has had her outer line of state-rooms taken from the main deck and the guards that lately overhung the water some ten or twelve feet, are reduced to from three to two feet, as it tapers from aft of the wheel-houses to the stern, only enough room being left for the necessary chocks and belaying bitts and ocas to the same. The guards forward of the wheel-houses have been reduced to the same proportions, and all round the ship fore and aft short heavy timber knees are being placed to strengthen the guards and deck-frame from the rough seas which prevail in stormy weather in the vicinity of Japan and China. Another change in the appearance of the Colorado is her rig, she now having three masts in place of two. Those masts will be ship rigged, carrying as high as topgallant sails on her mizzenmast, and the whole spreading an amount of canvas which may be a means of safety in case of accident to her machinery, and with favorable winds greatly increase her speed, at the same time saving coal.—Bulletin.

Killed by Indians.—A letter has been received from Surprise Valley, giving an account of an Indian fight near that place, in which James Townsend, an old resident of the county, was killed. A band of Indians having made a raid into the valley on the 26th of September, and run off forty head of horses, Capt. Munson, of Fort Bidwell, pursued them at the head of a company of thirty soldiers and citizens, Townsend being among the number. On the morning of the 27th, Townsend and five companions fell into an ambuscade. Townsend was shot dead on the spot, and two others were severely wounded. Capt. Munson, finding the Indians too strong for him, sent to the fort for reinforcements. The savages captured Townsend's rifle and two Henry rifles belonging to his wounded companions.

Extinguishment of the Public Debt.—The liquidation of the debt in August was the most sweeping yet recorded, making the reduction since June 1st equal to an average of $24,868,399 a month; and since August 1st, 1865, equal to a monthly average of $12,425,469. The net indebtedness of the country

August 1, 1865, was	$2,757,253,276
September 1, 1866, was	2,596,683,168
Net liquidation in thirteen months	$161,570,108

The reduction of the debt has progressed during the past three months at a rate which, in less than nine years, would cancel every dollar of the national obligations, if it could be maintained by the resources and legal privileges of the Government.—New York Tribune.

The London Spectator says: Once every week or oftener, a girl throws herself over one of the London bridges, and when fished out by the police or watermen, tells the magistrate that her "young man" had jilted her or deserted her, or "had words" with her, and she cannot live under it, and she will do it again, so she will, and is remanded by the humane official to give her time to consider herself. Solitude usually effects a cure more or less perfect; and the poor girl walks off with her friends, partly ashamed of her crime, partly rejoicing that "he" will read the report in the police sheet, and no longer doubt that "she means it."

Loyal Papers South.—The following papers, published in the South, sustain the policy of Congress: In Memphis, the Post; in Nashville, the Press, Times and Colored Tennessean; in New Orleans, the Tribune; in Augusta, the Loyal Georgian; in Charleston, the South Carolina Leader; in Savannah, the Republican; in Mobile, the National Zeitung; in Richmond, the New Nation; in San Antonio, the Express; in Newbern, the Times, which holds an "independent" position; in Homer (La.), the Iliad—a lively little sheet, which maintains the right bravely, and is in Harrison, Hamilton county (Tenn.), the Unconditional.

Pomological Resurrection.—The Massachusetts Ploughman has received, from Colonel Wm. Hemmonway, of Farmingham, specimens of apples that were plowed under four years ago. When taken out of the ground, on the 23d of August, they were still green and fresh, apparently as sound as the day they were buried.

Sensible Prescription.—In Boston, a short time since, a timid individual met a bluff, burly doctor, who is more noted for the polish of his language, when the following colloquy ensued: "Doctor, what shall I take for the cholera?" "The cholera! have you got the cholera?" "No." "Well, take the cholera first."

According to the Cleveland Leader, when the President finished his dispute with the crowd in that city, Senator Doolittle said to him: Mr. President, did you not lower your dignity in responding to the crowd?" "Damn my dignity!" responded the President, "I was bound to give 'em back what they gave me."

The following notice was posted up in the county of Kent: "Notice is hereby given, that the Marquis of Camden (on account of the back wardness of the harvest) will not shoot himself nor any of his tenants till the 14th of September."

Native Pearl versus Porcelain.—Dentist's ware is a poor substitute for Nature's. Let those who so believe use the Sozodont, which, if daily applied, will prevent all necessity for false Teeth by keeping the real ones sound and healthy.

"Martha Washington" Hair Restorer will keep the hair moist and silk like in appearance. Use one bottle and you'll use more of it.

What Doctors, Ministers and Professors think of them.—"I recommend their use to public speakers."—Rev. E. H. Chapin. "I have never changed my mind respecting 'Brown's Bronchial Troches' from the first, excepting to think better of that which I began to think well of."—Rev. Henry Ward Beecher. "Great service in subduing hoarseness."—Rev. Daniel Wise, New York. "The Troches are a staff of life to me."—Prof. Edward Barth, President of Hamilton College, Clinton, N. Y. "A simple and elegant combination for Coughs, etc."—Dr. G. F. Bigelow, Boston.

WONDERS OF ART.—ELSWORTH & CARDWELL, 89 First street, have produced lately some of the MOST BEAUTIFUL SPECIMENS of the PHOTOGRAPHIC ART. Even those who have seen the finest productions in other parts of the world, give way to expressions of delight while viewing the pictures from this GALLERY. This establishment stands without a rival.

BUCHTEL'S PREMIUM GALLERY was represented at the State Fair, as it always has been, and did take the FIRST PREMIUM as usual. His work stands for itself and does not require humbastic puffs in self-written cards, to recommend itself to the public. All kinds of work in the art furnished in the very latest styles.

THE WEEKLY OREGONIAN.

THE WEEKLY OREGONIAN is published this morning. It contains the latest telegraphic news from the East and California—a selection of the best articles appearing in The Daily Oregonian,—full and reliable news from the State, and the most copious commercial information published by any paper in the State.

The average amount of reading matter in the WEEKLY OREGONIAN is double that published by any other journal in Oregon; and in the particular of Commercial statistics and the Markets we aim to make it the most reliable, more especially in matters pertaining to Oregon interests.

Single copies 12½ cents, or $3 00 per year, to any part of the United States, or British Columbia.

ALDERMAN'S COURT.—In the Recorder's Court yesterday morning a nuisance case was brought up, and in addition to Mr. Sharp, charged with allowing the nuisance reported in our previous paper, the men engaged in doing the work, Richard Kendall and James Burk, and street cleaner Robert Kerr, were also arrested upon the same charge. As it did not appear that the man Richard Hunt, employed with Mr. Silver to do the work, and had engaged the negro Sooter to come and take it away in the morning. They were to place it in the street and this was to come with his cart at 5 o'clock and remove it. The Sooter failed to come, and to this action of his is attributable the fact of the nuisance being allowed to remain in the street. The evidence was all in the case, when Mr. Slater, and a decision will be given to-day. Mr. Slater was not prepared with his defence, and he will be heard this morning.——James Simmons, charged with committing an assault and battery upon the person of Joe, an Indian. It seems that Mr. Simmons has Indian blood in his veins, but is above the complexion that are met in our midst. Joe and Jim were engaged a lot of wood, and after they had finished sawing the lady for whom they were working paid to Joe the money which he put in his pocket. Jim thought that as he had done half the work he was entitled to half the money, but Jim could not find a dollar so to the demands of his partner, and followed Jim and persistently urged upon him the settlement of their agreement. Jim became enraged and struck Joe on the side of the head with his cane, which placed Joe hors de combat. Then Jim walked off and spent the money. Joe was brought before his Honor who sent him for ten days, from which he will emerge "a wiser man."

TELEGRAPHIC.—Our telegraph dispatches a few days ago announced the name of a man having been found murdered in this city. Through the kindness of a gentleman who is familiar with the following particulars of the murder, the house had been evidently fired, as the burning of the room had been evidently intended and the fire was extinguished by being smothered in the bloody bed, the straw being confined to the house. The murdered man is said to be about 50 years of age. He was killed by repeated blows upon the head with a hatchet, and his throat was cut from ear to ear. His head was broken and beat in, and the man evidently intended to represent the Irish Shamrock by the letters H H, with a leaved branch between. He was killed by repeated blows upon the head with a hatchet, and his throat was cut from ear to ear. His head was broken and beat in, and the man evidently intended to represent the Irish Shamrock by the letters H H, with a leaved branch between. He was clothed in blue Oregon made cloth, with a red stripe running each way, making a plaid. The murderer had on a hat though the murdered had on a cap. He also had on a vest, but no coat. The murdered man is an old resident of this vicinity, and when last seen was with a young man. As before stated the body was found on Sunday, and the man was supposed to have been seen on Wednesday. Soft seems to-day to assume that the murder took place on Wednesday night. It is supposed the object in hanging over the affair, as it now does to the murderer has been found.

THE BALLOON ASCENSION will take place to-day from the corner of Front and Ash streets. All who read the papers have heard of the celebrated Baisley family, to interest and the daring feats of Mons. Bastan Baisley; Prof. Baisley will ascend at 2 o'clock, and will make a parachute descent in this city. In the Great Republic, and is in itself an object of interest, from the fact of so many successions having been made with it. We have no doubt that the sight of such a great crowd, and we hope the liberality of the public will fully compensate the owners for their trouble.

A FAIR HAVE been entertained of the idea that Mr. Parker, of this city, and it was thought that he might be the man who was murdered on the road, but the circumstances of the victim does not agree with those of Mr. Parker. When Mr. Parker left, he was at Oakland, and telegraphed that he would come directly to this city. He should have arrived several days ago. It is to be hoped that he is all right, as there seems to be no cause for the fear that of his unaccountable detention and absence.

MUSICAL.—The Swiss Bell Ringers and Apollo Quartette gave an entertainment at Oro Fino Hall last evening, notwithstanding the bad weather the house was crowded, the ladies turning out en masse. The performance was excellent. The combination of the bells is very fine, and the singing of the quartette was also very good. Mr. Vincent shows that he has not lost his New York training. Labbé won much applause. Most of our readers have been entertained by the Swiss Bell Ringers, and are glad of an opportunity of hearing them again.

SALE.—The farm of Mr. J. B. Cough, situated in Benton County, was sold at Auction by Mr. J. J. Richardson. The farm was bought by Dr. Wm. Carvallis, for the sum of $7,775. The personal property, $7,000; total, $14,775, which is considered a large price. We are glad to see the sale, and our friend Mr. B. purchased to give examples of what can be done. We are glad to hear that a farm can now be sold for its value. Upon the value of farms more than upon any other one thing, depends the prosperity of our State at large.

ARRIVAL.—The steamer Ajax brought from San Francisco 5,600 qr sks flour, 80 brls apples, 50 brls potatoes, 1 case woolen goods and 22 carboys. 700 bbls flour were discharged on the steamer Pacific. The Ajax is now the Santiam, loaded with hay, and will be sent down the Willamette river to-morrow and sent on Sucker Lake to the Williamette, where she will, in the first freight through this route, test the merits of this market.

MILLINERY.—The ladies of Portland will notice the advertisement of Mrs. J. Lewis, the celebrated milliner, Mrs. J. Lewis, who has just arrived in the city for California, and will remain for the next few weeks her fine and valuable stock of goods at the lowest prices. She expects to leave in a few weeks in order to immediately close out her business.

THE CENTENARY.—Services will be held at the M. E. Church in this city, to-morrow. The subject of the morning service will be, "The Doctrine and Usages of the M. E. Church," and in the evening, "Its Ministry." Go to the Pioneer Hat and Cap Store of A. Bro. and see those L'Empereur—the Russian and all new styles kept on hand, and of the best quality.

We noticed yesterday upon the wharf the arrival of the Cosmopolitan Circus. They will be here to-day on the steamer Pacific.

The steamer Pacific, Metzger Commander, will sail this day for San Francisco direct, this evening at 6 o'clock.

LIQUOR SALE.—A. B. Richardson will sell to-day at auction a large assortment of groceries, liquors &c.

The agency of Wells, Fargo & Co., has been changed from the north, $50,000 in treasure.

THE WHITE HOUSE ANECDOTES.—Some good stories are told of the Irishman, "Edward," for four years a waiter at the White House:

Edward went with Fillmore to look at a carriage which the owner, a lady of some Southern magnate had thrown upon the market.

"Well, Edward," said the President, "and how will it be for the President of the United States to buy a second-hand carriage?"

"Well, now, ye Excellency, and ye's only a second President, ye know."

Mr. Fillmore took the joke, but not the carriage.

Later it was told by Mr. Lincoln, and was called up by the following: One dark and rainy evening, he had got as far as the door on our way to General McClellan's headquarters, without an umbrella, and Edward was sent after one, the President calling him whereabouts he might find it. In a few minutes he came back, announcing "Here, ye Excellency, and the owner must have more for it."

The President laughed heartily, and Edward found an excellent umbrella."

JEFF. DAVIS.—In the Petersburg (Va.) Index, John B. Kelley gives a long account of a recent interview with Jeff. Davis. He reports that the head traitor spoke thus: "No good can ever arise. Whatever was true in our theory of State rights will live, and be yet adopted entirely by our Northern brethren"—and more to the effect.

HARPER'S PHILADELPHIA CONVENTION.—General Wright, of Georgia, wrote to the Augusta (Georgia) Chronicle from the Philadelphia Convention that he had met there General Custar, whom he licked out of his boots in Virginia. The Rochester Democrat suggests that Custar is now ahead, as at Philadelphia he "licked" Wright and all other rebels, "boots" and all.

MASONIC.—A Regular Meeting of Harmony Lodge, No. 12, will be held this (Saturday) evening at 7½ o'clock for work. By order of W. M.

What Experienced Mill Men think of the Portable Steam Saw Mills built by the Oregon Iron Works!

PORTLAND, Oct. 13th, 1866.

TO THE OREGON IRON WORKS:

Gentlemen:—The Portable Steam Saw Mill which we purchased of you last spring for Pen d'Oreille Lake, has been in operation during the past season, and has more than met our expectations in its performance. With three men, we turn out from three to four thousand feet, and with five men, five thousand feet per day of ten hours; and we take pleasure in recommending these mills as the most SUBSTANTIAL, DESIRABLE AND PERFECT MILLS IN USE, and especially adapted to the wants of this country, on account of their compact form, ease of transportation and the facility with which they can be set up and put in operation. Although subjected to the most severe tests, no repairs have been required.

HAS CONSTANTLY ON HAND GROUND AND ROASTED COFFEE, GREEN COFFEE of the best qualities. CREAM OF TARTAR and SPICES of all sorts.
The undersigned, who has always enjoyed public confidence for the excellent quality of his Coffee, which is nothing to justify the good name acquired by his productions, the sale of which daily increases. The acknowledged superiority of his merchandise, which commands here, and in the markets of the interior, a relatively higher price, excites the cupidity of some manufacturers, and every day he sees increasing the number of those who, by counterfeit or imitation of his mark, seek to deceive the public, palming upon them their inferior productions for the genuine G. VENARD CHARTRES COFFEE. This fraud can deceive nobody in fact, but only adds to the favorable opinion of its consumers, the very flattering though unwilling testimony of the counterfeiters. Nevertheless, buyers should be forewarned, and placed on their guard against this practice.

DANCING ACADEMY!
In the

LAWS OF OREGON,

Passed at the Fourth Regular Session of the Legislative Assembly, held September, 1860.

AN ACT to provide for the recovery of the possession of real property in cases of forcible entry and detainer, or of forcible detainer only, and to prescribe the notice to quit in case a tenant holds over.

Be it enacted by the Legislative Assembly of the State of Oregon:

Section 1. No person shall enter upon any land, tenement or other real property, but in cases where entry is given by law, and in such cases the entry shall not be made with force, but only in a peaceable manner.

Sec. 2. When a forcible entry shall be made upon any premises, or when an entry shall be made in a peaceable manner, and the possession shall be held in force, the person entitled to the possession of the premises, may maintain an action to recover the possession thereof before any justice of the peace of the county in which such real property is situated.

Sec. 3. In such action it shall be sufficient to state in the complaint a description of the premises with convenient certainty; that the defendant is in possession thereof; that he entered upon the same with force, or unlawfully, holds the same with force, as the case may be, and that the plaintiff is entitled to the possession thereof.

Sec. 4. Such action, except as hereinafter especially provided, shall be conducted in all respects as other actions before justices of the peace.

Sec. 5. The summons shall be served and returned as in other cases. Such service shall be not less than two nor more than four days before the day of trial appointed by the justice.

Sec. 6. A continuance shall be granted for a longer period than two days, unless the defendant applying therefor shall give an undertaking to the plaintiff with good and sufficient security, to be approved by the justice, conditioned for the payment of the rent that may accrue, if judgment be rendered against the defendant.

Sec. 7. If the action be tried by the justice without a jury, and after hearing the evidence he shall conclude that the complaint is not true, he shall enter judgment against the plaintiff for costs; if he find the complaint true, or if judgment be rendered by default, he shall render a general judgment against the defendant and in favor of the plaintiff for restitution of the premises and costs of suit; if he find the complaint true in part, he shall render judgment for the restitution of such part only, and the costs shall be taxed as the justice shall deem just and equitable.

Sec. 8. If the action be tried by a jury and they shall find the complaint true, they shall render a general verdict of guilty against the defendant; if not true, then a general verdict of not guilty; if true in part, then a verdict setting forth the facts they find, and the justice shall render judgment according to the verdict.

Sec. 9. The execution, should judgment of restitution be rendered, may be in the following form:

THE STATE OF OREGON, }
COUNTY OF —— }

To the sheriff or any constable of said county: Whereas, a certain action for the forcible entry and detention (or the forcible detention, as the case may be,) of the following described premises, to-wit: ——, lately tried before me, wherein —— was plaintiff, and —— was defendant, judgment was rendered on the —— day of ——, A. D. ——; that the plaintiff — have restitution of said premises; and also that he recover costs in the sum of ——. In the name of the State of Oregon you are therefore hereby commanded to cause the defendant to forthwith removed from said premises, and plaintiff to have restitution of the same; also that you levy of the goods and chattels of said defendant and make the costs aforesaid, and all accruing costs, and of this writ make legal service and due return.

Witness my hand this — day of — A. D. ——.

—— Justice of the Peace.

Sec. 10. If judgment be rendered against the defendant for the restitution of the real property described in the complaint or any part thereof, no appeal shall be taken by the defendant from such judgment, until he shall in addition to the undertaking now required by law upon appeal, give an undertaking to the adverse party, with two sureties, who shall justify in like manner as bail upon arrest, for the payment to the plaintiff of twice the rental value of the real property of which restitution shall be adjudged, from the rendition of such judgment until final judgment of the said action if such judgment shall be affirmed upon appeal.

Sec. 11. The following shall be deemed cases of unlawful holding by force, within the meaning of this Act: 1. When the tenant or person in possession of any premises shall fail or refuse to pay any rent due on the lease or agreement under which he holds, or deliver up the possession of said premises for ten days after demand made in writing for such possession. 2. When, after notice to quit, as provided in this Act, any person shall continue in the possession of any premises at the expiration of the time limited in the lease or agreement under which such person holds, or contrary to any condition or covenant thereof, or without any written lease or agreement therefor.

Sec. 12. A notice to quit must be in writing, and must be served upon the tenant or person in possession, by being delivered to him or left at the premises, in case of his absence therefrom.

Sec. 13. An action for the recovery of the possession of the premises, may be maintained in the cases specified in subdivision 2, of Section 11, when the notice to quit has been served upon the tenant, or person in possession for the period of ten days before the commencement thereof, unless the leasing or occupation is for the purpose of farming or agriculture, in which case such notice must be so served for the period of ninety days before commencement of such action.

Sec. 14. The service of a notice to quit upon the tenant or person in possession, does not authorize an action to be maintained against him for the possession of the premises before the expiration of any period for which such tenant or person may have paid the rent of such premises in advance.

Sec. 15. When the leasing or occupation is for the purpose of farming or agriculture, the tenant, or person in possession, shall, after the termination of such lease or occupancy, have free access to the premises to cultivate and harvest, or gather any crop or produce of the soil, planted or sown by him before the service of notice to quit.

Sec. 16. In any action to recover the possession of any land tenement, or other real property, where the entry is forcible, or where the possession thereof is unlawfully held by force, the merits of the title shall not be enquired into; and three years quiet possession of the premises, immediately preceding the commencement of such action, by the party in possession, or those under whom he holds, may be pleaded in bar thereof, unless the estate of such party in the premises is ended.

Sec. 17. In any action to recover the possession of real property, as provided for in title 1 of Chapter IV of the Code of Civil Procedure, notice to quit, when necessary, may be given as prescribed in this Act; and nothing in this Act shall be construed so as to prevent such action being maintained for the recovery of the possession of real property, although the entry of the defendant be forcible, or his holding unlawful and with force.

Sec. 18. An Act entitled "An Act to provide for the recovery of the possession of real property in cases of forcible entry and detainer, and to prescribe the notice to quit, in case a tenant holds over, or without a written lease or agreement," approved Oct. 21, 1854, is hereby repealed.

Approved, Oct. 24, 1864.

AN ACT to amend the law of this State in relation to private corporations.

Section 1. The Legislative Assembly of the State of Oregon do enact as follows: Section 6 of Chapter VIII of the General Laws of this State, relating to the formation of private corporations, is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

Sec. 6. The corporators, or any portion of them, designated by a majority of the whole number, are authorized to open books and receive subscriptions to the capital stock of the corporation and as soon as such capital stock has been subscribed they shall give notice to the subscribers to meet at such time and place as they may designate for the purpose of electing not less than three directors as the stockholders shall determine; Provided, That it shall be lawful in the organization of any corporation to elect a board of directors as soon as one-half the capital stock has been subscribed.

Sec. 2. Section 11 of said Chapter VIII is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

Sec. 11. There shall be an annual election of directors, and at each election after the first the President of the corporation shall act as inspector of the election, and certify who are elected directors. The directors chosen shall hold their offices for one year thereafter and until their successors are elected and qualified. The power vested in the directors may be exercised by a majority of them, and any less number may constitute a quorum at all regular or stated meetings authorized by the by-laws of the corporation in all cases when either the directors or corporators shall have filed with the Secretary of State and county clerk a written statement designating such less number as sufficient to constitute a quorum. And insurance companies formed under this law may designate in their articles of incorporation what amount of percentage of the capital stock shall be required to be paid in before commencing business, and the stockholders shall be liable for the residue of the stock held by them respectively when the business or liability of the corporation shall require it.

Approved, Oct. 24, 1864.

AN ACT to provide for the ordinary expenses of the State Government and other general and specific appropriations.

Be it enacted by the Legislative Assembly of the State of Oregon:

Section 1. That the following sums be and the same are hereby specifically appropriated to the several objects hereinafter mentioned, for two years commencing from the first day of September, A. D. one thousand eight hundred and sixty-six, to be paid out of any money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated:

Sec. 2. For the salary of the Governor of the State three thousand dollars; for the salary of the Secretary of State, three thousand dollars; for the salary of the Treasurer of State, sixteen hundred dollars; for the salary of State Librarian, one thousand dollars.

Sec. 3. For the salary of the Justices of the Supreme Court, twenty thousand dollars; for the salary of Prosecuting Attorneys, five thousand dollars.

Sec. 4. For the salary of the Pilot Commissioners, seven hundred dollars; for the salary of the Adjutant General, sixteen hundred dollars; for the salary of Visiting Physician to Insane Asylum, one thousand dollars.

Sec. 5. For the payment of the expenses of conveying convicts to the Penitentiary, nine thousand dollars.

Sec. 6. For the payment of the expenses of the Penitentiary, and for salaries of officers, thirty-five thousand dollars ($35,000.)

Sec. 7. For the improvement of grounds and additions to Penitentiary buildings, ten thousand dollars, and for the purchase of the exclusive patent right of the Gardner shackle for the use of the same, five thousand dollars.

Sec. 8. For the support and medical treatment of the indigent, insane and idiotic, eighty-five thousand dollars.

Sec. 9. For the public printing, folding, stitching and binding, ten thousand dollars.

Sec. 10. For rents, stationery, lights, fuel, and other incidental expenses of the Legislative and Executive departments, eight thousand dollars.

Sec. 11. To pay for newspapers for the Legislative Assembly, six hundred dollars.

Sec. 12. For the salary of the Private Secretary of the Governor, twelve hundred dollars; for the salary of the Assistant Secretary of State, eight hundred dollars.

Sec. 13. For the payment to the publishers for printing proclamations of the Governor and for blanks, four hundred dollars.

Sec. 14. All salaries herein provided for shall be paid quarterly at the office of the State Treasurer, unless otherwise specified by law. No money appropriated by this act for any specific purpose shall be applied to any other purpose in any of the departments or objects of appropriation herein provided for.

Sec. 15. Owing to the public emergency this act shall be in force from and after its approval by the Governor.

Approved Oct. 24, 1864.

An act to amend an act to provide a code of criminal procedure, and to define crimes and their punishment, approved October 19th, 1864.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislative Assembly of the State of Oregon: Section 532 of said act is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

Section 532. If any person being armed with a dangerous weapon, shall assault another with such weapon, such person, upon conviction thereof, shall be punished by imprisonment in the penitentiary, not less than six months, nor more than ten years, or by imprisonment in the county jail not less than one month, nor more than one year, or by fine not less than one hundred, nor more than one thousand dollars.

Sec. 2. Inasmuch as there is no law prescribing a fine for the above named offense, this act shall be in force from and after its approval by the Governor.

Approved Oct. 20, 1866.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE

WEEKLY REVIEW.

PORTLAND, FRIDAY, 2 P. M., Oct. 26th, 1866.

Owing to a variety of causes, trade for the period in review has been moderate and but little change is noted. Considerable amounts of freight are still being shipped up the Columbia river. The demand for the Northern trade has continued brisk, notwithstanding the approach of winter. Freights are ruling lower at Umatilla than previously—freight from that place to Idaho City having recently been reduced to 10 cents per pound. We are informed by the commission houses there that their warehouses are completely cleared out. This speaks well for the trade of the North, and we think we see in it the signs of a splendid trade for next Spring. In this connection we wish to speak of the organization of the Montana and Oregon Transportation Company. The Company is formed of the leading men of the O. S. N. Co. and men who have been engaged in the establishment of the steamer Mary Moody on the Pen d'Oreille Lake and a new boat nearly completed at Cabinet Rapids.

Low water in the Willamette river still keeps back Flour and Wheat stored along the river. When the stage of water will permit, large amounts of Wheat will pour into the city and merchant mills. We note no change in wheat. Prices are firm at quotations; although there seems to be no probability of any immediate advances.

Advices from San Francisco are that the receipts of Wheat at that port has been steadily increasing for several weeks past, but has evidently met the turning point, the receipts for the week ending Oct. 13th, showing a decline of about 30 ₱ cent. from the preceding one. For the week ending Oct. 20th, the receipts were 144,895 sks, against 99,439 sks for the same week in 1865.

The Bulletin says: "Since July 1st, we have received 1,951,034 sks, against 887,295 sks for the same time in 1865—an increase this year of 1,063,329 sks. The present stock in the market is unusually large, being variously estimated at from 400,000 to 600,000 sks. All our warehouses are filled, and this doubtless is the main reason for the decline in the receipts for the past week noted above. None of the vessels reported last week as on the north for Great Britain have got off. The work of loading is busily going forward and some of them will clear soon. The exports for the past week were 27,763 sks, against 20,949 for the corresponding week last year. Included in these exports were two cargoes to Hongkong, one to New York, and one of about 4,500 sks to Boston—the first shipment of any consequence to that port in a long time. Since July 1st we have exported 783,315 sks, against 173,586 for the same time last year, showing an increase this year of 609,729 sks.

Since June 30, however, and during the present month, the imports have been on an almost unprecedentedly large scale, a regular fleet of vessels having arrived since the 1st inst. with (as nearly as we can compute,) 191,348 bushels wheat, or at 45 bushels to the ton, 4,585½ tons, 1,114 tons flour, making in all, since the 1st inst, 4,600 tons. It therefore is not, or rather ought not, to be a matter of surprise that the market should be somewhat glutted—the wonder is from which it will no doubt be some time ere it recovers. The millers for the most part are fully supplied for some time yet.

The steamer Driftmaster took 3,080 qr sks flour, and an assorted freight. The Montana took 4,477 pkgs mdse. The bark Eldridge has dropped down to Oak Point for spars and piles for Honolulu. The Pulsifer for Victoria, took 2,550 qr sks flour, and a full assorted cargo. The Fallenbury has finished discharging, and will make up her cargo next week. The schooner Crosby will leave for Victoria and Port Townsend on Monday next.

It will be remembered that the new side-wheel steamer Oregonian, designed for the Oregon trade, cleared from New York for this port September 24th.

LAWS OF OREGON,

Passed at the Last Session of the Legislative Assembly held September, 1866

AN ACT to provide for the recovery of the possession of real property in cases of forcible entry and detainer for of forcible detainer only and to prescribe the notice to put in case a tenant holds over

It is enacted by the Legislative Assembly of the State of Oregon

Section 1 No person shall enter upon any land tenement or other real property but in cases where entry is given by law and in such cases the entry shall not be made with force, but only in a peaceable manner

Sec 2 When a forcible entry shall be made upon any premises, or when an entry shall be made in a peaceable manner and the possession shall be held in force the party entitled to the possession of the premises may maintain an action to recover the possession thereof before any justice of the peace of the county in which such real property is situated

Sec 3 In such action it shall be sufficient to state in the complaint a description of the premises with convenient certainty, that the defendant is in possession thereof, that he entered upon the same with force or unlawfully holds the same with force as the case may be, and that the plaintiff is entitled to the possession thereof

Sec 4 Such action, except as hereinafter especially provided, shall be conducted in all respects as other actions before justices of the peace

Sec 5 The summons shall be served and returned as in other cases Such service shall be not less than two nor more than four days before the day of trial appointed by the justice

Sec 6 No continuance shall be granted for a longer period than two days, unless the defendant applying therefor shall give an undertaking to the adverse party with good and sufficient security, to be approved by the justice, conditioned for the payment of the rent that may accrue, if judgment be rendered against the defendant

Sec 7 If the action be tried by the justice without a jury, and after hearing the evidence he shall conclude that the complaint is not true, he shall enter judgment against the plaintiff for costs; if he find the complaint true or if judgment be rendered by default, he shall render a general judgment against the defendant and in favor of the plaintiff for restitution of the premises and costs of suit, if he find the complaint true in part he shall render judgment for the restitution of such part only, and the costs shall be taxed as the justice shall deem just and equitable

Sec 8 If the action be tried by a jury and they shall find the complaint true, they shall render a general verdict of guilty against the defendant, if not true, then a general verdict of not guilty, if true in part, then a verdict setting forth the facts as they find, and the justice shall render judgment according to the verdict.

Sec 9 The execution, should judgment of restitution be rendered, may be in the following form:

THE STATE OF OREGON, }
COUNTY OF }

To the sheriff or any constable of said county: Whereas, a certain action for the forcible entry and detention (or the forcible detention, as the case may be,) of the following described premises, to-wit: ——— lately tried before me, wherein ——— was plaintiff, and ——— was defendant, judgment was rendered on the ——— day of ———, A D ———, that the plaintiff ——— have restitution of said premises, and also that he recover costs in the sum of ——— In the name of the State of Oregon you are therefore hereby commanded to cause the defendant to be forthwith removed from said premises, and plaintiff to have restitution of the same, also that you levy of the goods and chattels of said defendant and make the costs aforesaid, and all accruing costs, and of this writ make legal service and due return

Witness my hand this ——day of — A D. ———

Sec. 10 If judgment be rendered against the defendant for the restitution of the real property described in the complaint or any part thereof, no appeal shall be taken by the defendant from such judgment, until he shall in addition to the undertaking now required by law upon appeal, give an undertaking to the adverse party, with two sureties, who shall justify in like manner as bail upon arrest, for the payment to the plaintiff of twice the rental value of the real property of which restitution shall be adjudged, from the rendition of such judgment until final judgment of the said action if such judgment shall be affirmed upon appeal.

Sec 11. The following shall be deemed cases of unlawful holding by force, within the meaning of this Act 1 When the tenant or person in possession of any premises shall fail or refuse to pay any rent due on the lease or agreement under which he holds, or deliver up the possession of said premises for ten days after demand made in writing for such possession. 2. When, after notice to quit, as provided in this Act, any person shall continue in the possession of any premises at the expiration of the time limited in the lease or agreement under which such person holds, or contrary to any condition or covenant thereof, or without any written lease or agreement therefor

Sec 12 A notice to quit must be in writing, and must be served upon the tenant or person in possession, by being delivered to him or left at the premises, in case of his absence therefrom

Sec 13 An action for the recovery of the possession of the premises, may be maintained in the cases specified in subdivision 2, of Section 11, when the notice to quit has been served upon the tenant, or person in possession, for the period of ten days before the commencement thereof, unless the leasing or occupation is for the purpose of farming or agriculture, in which case such notice must be so served for the period of ninety days before commencement of such action

Sec. 14. The service of a notice to quit upon the tenant or person in possession, does not authorize an action to be maintained against him for the possession of the premises before the expiration of any period for which such tenant or person may have paid the rent of such premises in advance

Sec. 15. When the leasing or occupation is for the purpose of farming or agriculture, the tenant or person in possession, shall, after the termination of such lease or occupancy have free access to the premises to cultivate and harvest, or gather any crop, or produce of the soil planted or sown by him before the service of notice to quit.

Sec 16 In any action to recover the possession of any land tenement, or other real property, where the entry is forcible, or where the possession thereof is unlawfully held by force, the merits of the title shall not be enquired into, and three years quiet possession of the premises, immediately preceding the commencement of such action, by the party in possession, or those under whom he holds, may be pleaded in bar thereof, unless the estate of such party in the premises is ended

Sec. 17 In any action to recover the possession of real property, as provided for in title I of Chapter IV of the Code of Civil Procedure, notice to quit, when necessary, may be given as prescribed in this Act, and nothing in this Act shall be construed so as to prevent such action being maintained for the recovery of the possession of real property, although the entry of the defendant be forcible, or his holding unlawful and with force

Sec 18 An Act entitled "An Act to provide for the recovery of the possession of real property in cases of forcible entry and detainer, and to prescribe the notice to quit in case a tenant holds over, or without a written lease or agreement," approved Oct 21, 1864, is hereby repealed

Approved, Oct 24, 1864.

AN ACT to amend the law of this State in relation to private corporations

Section 1 The Legislative Assembly of the State of Oregon do enact as follows Section 6 of Chapter VIII of the General Laws of this State, relating to the formation of private corporations, is hereby amended so as to read as follows

Sec 6 The corporators, or any portion of them, designated by a majority of the whole number, are authorized to open books and receive subscriptions to the capital stock of the corporation, and as soon as such capital stock has been subscribed they shall give notice to the subscribers to meet at such time and place as they may designate for the purpose of electing not less than three directors as the stockholders shall determine Provided That it shall be lawful in the organization of any corporation to elect a board of directors as soon as one half the capital stock has been subscribed

Sec 2 Section 11 of said Chapter VIII is hereby amended so as to read as follows

Sec 11 There shall be an annual election of directors and at each election after the first the President of the corporation shall act as inspector of the election and certify who are elected directors The directors chosen shall hold their offices for one year there after and until their successors are elected and qualified The power vested in the directors may be exercised by a majority of them and any less number may constitute a quorum at all regular or stated meetings authorized by the by laws of the corporation in all cases when either the directors or corporators shall have filed with the Secretary of State and country clerk a written statement designating such less number as sufficient to constitute a quorum And insurance companies formed under this law may designate in their articles of incorporation what amount of percentage of the capital stock shall be required to be paid in before commencing business, and the stockholders shall be liable for the residue of the stock held by them respectively in the business of liability of the corporation shall require it

Approved, Oct 24 1866

WEEKLY REVIEW

PORTLAND FRIDAY, 2 P M
Oct 26th, 1866

Owing to a variety of causes, trade for the period in review has been moderate and but little change is noted Considerable amounts of freight are still being shipped up the Columbia river The demand for the Northern trade has continued brisk notwithstanding the approach of winter Freights are ruling lower at Umatilla than previously—freight from that place to Idaho City having recently been reduced to 10 cents per pound We are informed by the commission houses there that their warehouses are completely cleared out. This speaks well for the trade of the North, and we think we see in it the signs of a splendid trade for next Spring In this connection we wish to speak of the organized on of the Montana and Oregon Transportation Company The Company is formed of the leading men of the O R N Co and men who have been engaged in the establishment of the steamer Mary Moody on the Peudd'Oreille Lake and a new boat nearly completed at Cabinet Rapids

Low water in the Willamette river still keeps back Flour and Wheat stored along the river When the stage of water will permit, large amounts of Wheat will pour into the city and merchant mills We note no change in wheat Prices are firm at quotations, although there seems to be no probability of any immediate advances

Advices from San Francisco are that the receipts of Wheat at that port has been steadily increasing for several weeks past, but has only lately met the turning point, the receipts for the week ending Oct. 13th, showing a decline of about 30 ₱ cent from the preceding one For the week ending Oct 16th the receipts were 141,330 sks, against 99 420 sks for the same week in 1865

The Bulletin says "Since July 1st, we have received 1 961,034 sks against 867,205 sks for the same time in 1865—an increase this year of 1 093,829 sks The present stock in the market is unusually large, being variously estimated at from 400 000 to 600 000 sks All our warehouses are filled and this doubtless is the main reason for the decline in the receipts for the past week noted above None of the vessels reported last week as on the berth for Great Britain have got off The work of loading is busily going forward and some of them will clear soon The exports for the past week were 27 763 sks against 20,540 for the corresponding week last year Included in these exports were two cargoes to Hongkong one to New York, and one of about 4,000 sks to Boston—the first shipment of any consequence to that port in a long, time Since July 1st we have exported 783 ,15 sks against 173 ,86 for the same time last year showing an increase this year of 609 ,29 sks

Since June 30 however, and during the present month the imports have been on an almost unprecedented scale large quantities of vessels having arrived since the last mail with (as nearly as we can quote) 1d 349 bushels wheat on at so I bushels to the ton 3,658,3?? tons 1 114 tons flour, making an aggregate for the last, 4,690 tons It therefore is not to rather ought not to be a matter of surprise that the market should have declined as it has, from which it will no doubt be some time ere it recovers The millers for the most part are fully supplied for some time yet

The steamer Dryfamme took 3 631 qr sks flour, and an assorted freight. The Montana took 4,417 kgs in lac The bark Eldridge has dropped down to Oak Point for spars and piles for Honolulu The Minister for Victoria, took 2 950 qr sks flour, and a full assorted cargo The Bullimbing has finished discharging, and will make up her cargo next week The steamer Cowlitz will leave for Victoria and Puget Sound on Monday next

It will be remembered that the new side wheel steamer Oregonian designed for the Oregon trade, cleared from New York for this port September 24th
